The Tier I Provincials for diving were held this past weekend in Nepean-Ottawa, and the Kitchener-Waterloo Diving Club had another stellar showing.

Leading the way was C. J. Moore of Waterloo, who dove in the age 16-18 A competition. This was Moore's first time in this age group, and he held his own against the older divers. He brought home a hat trick of medals – gold on the tower, silver on the 1 meter and bronze on the three meter.

Brett Gillis of Kitchener and Brawn Mahony of Waterloo dove in the ages 14-15 B final. Once again the B divers were the competition to watch, with high scores and intense competition. Mahoney competed on the 1 meter placing eighth with a personal best score.

Gillis took home three medals placing second on both 1 and tower, and bronze on 3 meter.

On tower, Gillis performed the most difficult dive of the whole competition, coming away with straight 6.5 scores, and a total score of 62.4 one dive.

Other medallists included Waterloo's Ali Moussa in the boys 11 and under D competition, taking silver on 1 meter, bronze on 3 meter and 4th on the tower.

Nate Grobe rounded the weekend by hitting a triple in the same D competition. Grobe took gold in all three events, and broke the provincial record on 3 meter.

Kate Brechun took gold in the 1 m open competition.
